

Caring for people with disabilities

Name:

Some people feel uneasy talking to people with disabilities. One reason is that they are frightened to say the wrong thing. When working with people with disabilities, remember that they want to be treated normally like any other person.

Do this exercise using a blindfold. Draw a picture of yourself in the space provided and try to colour it in. When you have completed your picture answer the questions below.

Is your picture what you imagined it to look like? _____

Was the picture difficult to do? _____

What does it mean to have a disability? _____

Do you know some-one with a disability? _____

How can you care for some-one with a disability? _____
