Why should wild animals not be kept as pets?

- It is against the law to keep wild animals as pets in most places.
- Wild animals can carry diseases that can spread to people.
- Wild animals have natural instincts and may bite or scratch without warning.
- Wild animals need a lot of room to roam and look for food.

Wild animals should be left in the wild to live and care for their families in their natural environment.